Dental Spa Makes History at Spa Expo

Dental Spa of Pacific Palisades will be featured at the Spa and Resort Expo and Medical Spa Conference at the L.A. Convention Center on February 15.

"We're the first dental practice to be featured at any spa and medical spa conference," said Dr. Lynn Watanabe, owner and founder of Dental Spa, which opened in the 881 Alma Real building in May 2002. She and her husband John Chien, Dental Spa's co-founder, will showcase their practice as part of the famed Medical Spa Tours. Watanabe will also offer her expertise on a panel titled "Q&A with Top Medical Spa Owners."

Dental Spa offers dental services, massage therapy, facials/cosmetology service and DS Face & Body skincare, body-care and make-up products.

Emmy Award-winning make-up artist Joleen Rizzo and skincare specialist aesthetician Lori Collins have personally helped create a line of products that is carried by Dental Spa centers in New York, the San Francisco Bay area, Ann Arbor, Michigan—and now Seoul, Korea.

Meanwhile, at the University of Pacific Dental School in San Francisco, Watanabe is co-teaching the first class ever at a dental school discussing how dentists can incorporate the dental spa approach in a private practice.

Dental Spa has also enlisted the services of Irwin J. Alexander Design, a referral from Palisades interior designer Bobbi Leonard, to complete its goal of having a state-of-the-art spa atmosphere featuring granite and wood construction and the use of "carpet tiles." Phil Carnevale of Carnevale and Sons Construction is acting as the general contractor.
